

THE Caledonian Mercury, BEING

A short Account of the most considerable News, Foreign and Domestick.

Edinburgh; Thursday September 6, 1722.

From the Evening Post, September 1.

Naples, August 11.

IT is confirmed by Letters from Malta and Sicily of the 25th. of last Month, that no Turkish Ships are seen now in the Neighbourhood of those two Islands, but the Corsairs of Barbary still swarm there, and very much obstruct our Trade. Our Regency being informed, that there is a Company of above 40 Banditti in Calabria, has issued proper Directions for apprehending them.

Constantinople, July 26. Our great Bairam being ended, the Envoy of the King and Republic of Poland, has had his Audience of the Grand Seignior, who upon that Occasion presented him with 13 Turkish Vests for him and his Retinue; as far as we can hear, that Minister's Commission only relates to the renewing of the Suspension of Arms concluded at Carlowitz, and accordingly Commissioners will shortly be appointed by this Court to treat with him about that Affair. We have no material Advices from Persia, all we hear from thence is, that they are much alarm'd on account of the Enterprize of the Czar on the Side of Astrakan.

Lyons, August 24. The Marshal de Villeroi is expected to arrive To-morrow come Se'night at Newville, within 2 Leagues of this City; People of the best Rank are making Preparations, to go and meet him on the Road about that Time.

Warsaw, August 22. The Emperor of Russia having ordered his Ministers to demand of our Regency in Favour of the Christians of the Greek Perswasion, the Restitution of all the Churches, Cloisters, and the Revenues belonging to the same, which have been taken from them, contrary to the Treaty of Peace concluded in 1686; the said Ministers have writ a very earnest Letter about it, directed to the King and Republic, in which, among many other Things, they say prompt Satisfaction is expected, in Default of which, it will be procured by Military Execution.

St. Albans, August 27.

SIR,

I HAVE read Dr. Brady on Inoculation which you sent me, and instead of being in the least convinced, I am surprized, that one could have the Assurance to write on a Subject, when he was entirely ignorant of the Facts and had seen but seven, and thole Children inoculated: Among these too, one of them he himself believes had not the Genuine sort, and another had the fluxed Kind, in Opposition to the Tenour of his whole Discourse. If only one in an hundred or even in five hundred, die of it, how do I know but it may be one of my Children, and I should never forgive myself, if it should so happen, you tell me the Inoculators are clubbing together to fit out a Pamphlet in their Defence; there are so many Instances of ill Success in so small a Number inoculated, that 'tis impossible they can do any Service to themselves or their Cause; Pray let them Answer the following Queries.

Queritur 1. Whether the inoculated Pox has been always favourable when Mr. Heath's Son, Lord Forbes's Son, Mr. Turner's Daughter Mr. Sympson's Children, and Mr. Waller's Child, with many others, have had the fluxed Sort.

Q. 2. Whether they are never Dangerous, when one of the Princesses, Lord Berkley's Daughter, Sir Danvers Osbourn, Mrs. Rigby, Mr. Hanson's Daughter, Mr. Hugh's Daughters, and others, have laboured under Impostumes or been afflicted with an hectic Fever; and when Mr. Spencer, Lord Bathurst's Servant, and Mrs. Rigby are dead of it.

Q. 3. Whether the Experiment can be thought certain, when it Communicates such different Kinds of the Small Pox, and sometimes none at all, as in the Case of the Duke of Dorset's Son, Mr. H. Michael Brand's Daughter, Mr. Clerk's Son, and others.

Q. 4. Whether this Experiment can be called usefull when the small Pox are often spread by it, and destroy Numbers; of which we have a Testimony in our own Neighbourhood.

Let them Sir, not work in the Dark, and secret their Miscariages, but Confess them openly, thēre are Facts which fly in their Faces, and which some of them have acknowledged, and they may glois over, and endeavour to refute them, as they Please, yet they can be never got over or fairly answered.

The Reverend Mr. Piggot, Vicar of Ruchdale in Lancashire, died a few Weeks ago, aged almost an hundred Years; and yet of that Vigour, that he preached every Sunday till within a few Days of his Death. He was a great Loyalist, and faithful Adherer to King Charles I. in the worst of Times. Dr. Dunker, of Great Marlborough Street succeeds him.

The Bishop of Rochester is more closely confined in the Tower than he was, none being suffered to speak to him. His Lordship has not appointed a Solicitor as inserted in some of the Papers.

By a British Ship from the Levant, there is an Account that passing by the Coasts of Barbary, the English Captain discovered the Ottoman Fleet joined by the Men of War of Algiers, Tunis, and Tripoli, consisting in all of 74 Ships, great and small, Part of which were cruizing to and fro on the Coast of Tripoli, but their Design was not known.

Two Boys at a Door 20 Yards off, were much hurt by the Concussion. Many Windows were broke thereby, and some adjacent Houses shock'd. It happily fell out, that the Grocer, his Wife and Children, were all walked out.

Yesterday several Persons of Distinction went to visit the Bishop of Rochester, who is laid to appear very cheerful, and to behave himself with great Magnanimity.

From the St. James's Evening Post, September 1.

Moscow, July 31. Six Regiments of Foot that came from Smolensko and Novograde, have marched by near this City, continuing their way towards Astracan. These Regiments consist of between 12 and 13000 Men, and when they have joined the other Troops, 'tis computed the Army will consist of 80,000 fighting Men, including the 12,000 Foot that marched from Toboskoy, who are to cross the high Mountains towards Georgia; the Emperor our Sovereign being at Table at Astracan, declared, that he would endeavour to come up with the Rebel Mireweis, even tho' it should cost him his whole Army. We have received Advice by the Way of Tartary, That Mireweis, after he had established the young Sophi on the Throne of Persia, and contracted a Friendship with the chief Men of that Kingdom, detached 30,000 Men of chosen Troops, to join a great Body of Tartars, and march with them to encounter the Russian Army.

To-morrow the Emperor's Plenipotentiaries will likewise give a splendid Banquet. All these Divisions would give much more Satisfaction to the Ambassadors themselves, if there were any Prospect of a speedy Negotiation, and a good Issue of it, which appears very doubtful to some People of great Insight and Dilcernment.

From

From the Bay of all Saints, in Brazil, March 25. The Pyrates who left our Coasts are now upon that of the Mines of Angola, and have taken so many Prizes, that the Navigation between that Country and this Place is quite interrupted, by which the Price of the few Slaves brought hither last Year is prodigiously advanced. We have had such continued Rains and Wind ever since the last Summer, that one would almost think our Climate is entirely altered; and the whole Year has been like an interrupted Winter, whereby the 2 Rivers Cachoeira and St. Amaro have overflowed their Banks, and destroyed the 2 Cities of that Name; the Damage occasioned by it has made Suggar alone amount to ~~2000~~ Crofadoes, besides what Mischief it has done to the Suggar Canes; moreover it has occasioned such Scarcity of Meal and other Eatables, that our Vice-roy has judged it proper to fix a Price, which otherwise would have risen to an extravagant Height.

Our Recorder Sir Gilbert Eyre, with the Mayor and Aldermen, and the several City Companies met his Majesty at the Winchester gate, and presented him with the Keys of the City Gates, also with a Purse embroidered with Gold, containing 100 Guineas, and on it these Words, God bless K. George. The Prince was also presented with another Purse, in which were 50 Guineas. Our Streamer of 30 Yards long, was placed on the high Spire of the Cathedral, and Ensigns on all the other Churches. The Procession to the Bishop's Palace was very Magnificent, where his Majesty and the Prince dined and supped in Publick. The Country People for 30 or 40 Miles are flocking hither to see the King, and the Review of the Forces, which consist of 7 Regiments of Foot, 2 of Horse, and 2 of Dragoons.

People are much divided in their Opinions concerning the Particulars of the Charge against the Bishop of Rochester; but they cannot certainly be known till he comes to his Trial; which, some pretend to say, will be next Term in the Court of King's Bench, Westminster.

Mr. Idle, one of the Surveyors of the River, belonging to the Custom-house, and Mr. Din, a Riding Officer at Gravelend, were last Wednesday dismissed for some Defaults, and divers of the Tide-waiters are daily discharged.

'Tis strange, that the Discontents should still so much abound, as to give Occasion for these Precautions to be taken to secure the Peace of the Kingdom: We find, That some Persons under the present Juncture, have published a Book, entitled, A true State of the South Sea Scheme; and Cato, in his Letter To-day, concerning Corporations or political Combinations of Men amongst the rest remarks, that all wise and honest Governments ought to protect their innocent industrious and unguarded Subjects, against the Spares of Cheats.
